REPORT & RECOMMENDATION

12 This matter involves Tanus Cabinet's breach of contract action against Central Transport and
13 Blue Grace Logistics for damage that occurred to a cosmetic kiosk shipped to the Providence Place
14 Mall. Before the court is Blue Grace's motion to dismiss for defective service of process (#15, #16¹) and 15 Blue Grace's motion to stay discovery pending the court's ruling on the motion to dismiss (#20). For the 16 reasons stated below, Blue Grace's motion to dismiss should be denied and Blue Grace's motion to stay
17 is denied.²

18
19 BACKGROUND

20 In July 2013, Blue Grace Logistics directed Central Transport to pick up and deliver a cosmetic
21 kiosk to the Providence Place Mall in Providence, Rhode Island. (Pl.'s Opp'n (#17) at 3). When Central
22 Transport arrived at the mall, Central Transport's shipment was refused. (Id.) For four days, the kiosk

24 ¹ Parenthetical citations refer to the court's docket.

25 ² Central Transport also filed a notice of a clerical error (#18). The notice alerts the court to Tanus's opposition, which mistakenly identifies the instant motion to dismiss as Central Transport's motion, and not Blue Grace's motion. Central Transport asks the court to not "punish" Central Transport for Tanus's clerical error. The court will not construe Tanus's error against Central Transport.

1 was stored in an unknown location and then discovered in a warehouse in Ohio. (Id.) On July 25, 2013,
2 the kiosk arrived at the Providence Place Mall. (Id.) It was “completely destroyed.” (Id.) Litigation
3 ensued.

4 On November 12, 2013, Tanus filed suit in state court. On December 3, 2013, Tanus erroneously
5 served Blue Grace’s registered agent, George Keele of Evilsizor Transportation Service, at 1692 County
6 Road, Minden, Nevada, with a summons and complaint for Central Transport. (See Summons #1-2). On 7 December 18, 2013, Central Transport received a copy of the summons and complaint in the U.S. Mail;
8 and, on January 13, 2014, Central Transport timely removed the action to federal court. (See generally
9 Petition for Removal #1); (Statement of Removal #7).

10 Service was subsequently attempted “numerous” times. (Pl.’s Opp’n (#17) at 5:3). On February 11 6, 2014, Tanus attempted to properly serve Blue Grace’s registered agent, George Keele. However,
12 Tanus’s process server may have attempted service at a residence at 1692 Country Club Road, Minden,
13 Nevada rather than 1692 County Road, Minden, Nevada, where George Keele’s office is located. In any 14 event, the parties agree that this service attempt failed.
15

16 On March 18, 2014, Tanus attempted to serve Blue Grace again (See Summon #13). However,
17 Tanus served Blue Grace with state, not federal, process. Tanus made no subsequent attempts to serve
18 Blue Grace. On February 3, 2014, Blue Grace filed the instant motion to dismiss. On May 13, 2014,
19 Tanus’s 120-day period to serve Blue Grace expired.³ On May 22, 2014, Blue Grace filed the instant

22 ³ Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 4(m) requires that service of process be effectuated on all defendants within 120

1 motion to stay discovery.

2 DISCUSSION

3 Blue Grace moves to dismiss Tanus' complaint on two grounds. First, Blue Grace argues that the 4 court lacks personal jurisdiction over Blue Grace because Tanus failed to serve Blue Grace in
5 accordance with the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure as required under 28 U.S.C. § 1448. Second, Blue
6 Grace argues that Tanus's complaint against Blue Grace should be dismissed because Tanus's March 7 18, 2014 service was untimely under Rule 4(m). Both arguments are addressed below.

8 I. Whether Service was Defective under 28 U.S.C. § 1448

9 The first question Blue Grace's motion raises is whether Tanus's complaint should be dismissed
10 for failure to serve Blue Grace in according with 28 U.S.C. § 1448. This statute states:

11 In all cases removed from any State court to any district court of the United States in 12 which any one or more of the defendants has not been served with process or in which 13 the service has not been perfected prior to removal, or in which process served proves to 14 be defective, such process or service may be completed or new process issued in the same manner as in cases originally filed in such district court.

15 Interpreting 28 U.S.C. § 1448, the Ninth Circuit stated that the statute contemplates three separate 16 situations: "(1) where a defendant has not been served at all with state process prior to removal;
17 (2) where a defendant has been served prior to removal but the service has not been perfected in accord
18 with state law at the date of removal; (3) where a defendant has been served prior to removal but the 19 summons contains some formal defect on its face." Beecher v. Wallace, 381 F.2d 372, 372 (9th Cir.
20 1967).

21 Citing 28 U.S.C. § 1448 and Beecher, Blue Grace argues that because Central Transport
22 removed the action on January 13, 2014, Tanus was required to serve Blue Grace in accordance with the 23

24 v. City of Chicago, 646 F.3d 1001, 1004 (7th Cir. 2011) (stating that the 120-day period commences on removal);
25 Wallace v. Microsoft Corp., 596 F.3d 703 (10th Cir. 2010).

1 Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. (See Def.'s Mot. to Dismiss (#16) at 4:23) ("Service in federal court
2 requires a federal summons."). This is incorrect. As stated by Rule 4 and Beecher, service in federal
3 court may oftentimes be executed in accordance with state law. See, e.g., Fed. R. Civ. P. 4 4(e)(1)
4 (permitting service by publication in federal court as provided by the state law in the state where the 5 court sits). In fact, of the three situations identified by Beecher, only one requires a federal summons in 6 federal court. That situation is "where a defendant has not been served at all with state process prior to 7 removal." Beecher, 381 F.2d at 372. This situation does not exist here. On December 3, 2013, Tanus
8 erroneously served Blue Grace's registered agent, George Keele, with a summons and complaint for 9 Central Transport. (See Summons #1-2).

10 The circumstances of this action fall under the third category identified by Beecher: "where a 11 defendant has been served prior to removal but the summons contains some formal defect on its face."
12 On December 3, 2013, Tanus served Blue Grace's registered agent; but service was facially defective
13 because it named Central Transport, not Blue Grace. (See Summons #1-2). In this situation, Beecher
14 provides that "'process may be completed' in the federal court in the same manner as in the state court."
15 Id. (citing Stauffer v. McLain Trucking, Inc., 8 F.R.D. 478 (N.D. Ohio 1968)). Consequently, it was 16 appropriate for Tanus to correct its error by serving Blue Grace on March 18, 2014 in accordance with 17 Nevada law, even though the action had been removed to federal court on January 13, 2014. See id.

19 II. Whether Service was Untimely under Rule 4(m)

20 Having determined that Tanus's service was effective under 28 U.S.C. § 1448, the court now
21 considers the second issue raised by Blue Grace's motion: whether Tanus's complaint should be 22 dismissed for failure to serve Blue Grace within Rule 4(m) 120-day time period.

23 Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 12(b)(5) states that a party may move to dismiss a complaint for 24 insufficient service of process. "Service of process" is a formal delivery of documents that is legally sufficient to charge the defendant with notice of a pending action. R. Griggs Grp. Ltd. v. Filanto Spa, 920 F. Supp. 1100, 1103 (D. Nev. 1996) (citing Volkswagenwerk Aktiengesellschaft v. Schlunk, 486 U.S. 694 (1988)). Under Rule 4(m), “[i]f a defendant is not served within 120 after the complaint is filed, the court . . . must dismiss the action without prejudice against that defendant or order that service be made within a specified time.” In a removed case, the 120-day period begins to run from the date of removal. Vasquez v. N. Cnty. Transit Dist., 292 F.3d 1049, 1053 (9th Cir. 2002); see also 28 U.S.C. § 1448; 4B CHARLES A. WRIGHT & ARTHUR R. MILLER, FEDERAL PRACTICE & PROCEDURE: CIVIL 3d: § 1137 (2002) (“In removed cases, the Rule 4(m) time period starts to run upon removal to the federal district court, not the date the action was originated in state court. . . .”).

Blue Grace argues that Tanus’s complaint should be dismissed because Tanus’s March 18, 2014 service was untimely. This is incorrect. As discussed above, where a complaint has been removed from state court, the 120-day period begins to run from the date of removal rather than the date the complaint was filed in state court. See 28 U.S.C. § 1448; 4B CHARLES A. WRIGHT & ARTHUR R. MILLER, FEDERAL PRACTICE & PROCEDURE: CIVIL 3d: § 1137 (2002). Here, Central Transport removed Tanus’s action on January 13, 2014. Under Rule 4(m), Tanus had until May 13, 2014 to serve Blue Grace.

Blue Grace was served on March 18, 2014 under Nevada law. (See Beckman Aff. (#16) Exhibit A at ¶ 3) (“I am authorized to accept service on behalf of Blue-Grace. On March 18, 2014, Blue Grace was first delivered a copy of the summons and complaint in this matter.”). This cured Tanus’s prior service, which suffered from a facial defect, see Beecher, 381 F.2d at 372, and rendered Tanus’s confusion of the two addresses inconsequential.

III. Whether the Court should Stay Discovery

Finally, Blue Grace moves to stay discovery pending the court’s ruling on its motion to dismiss. Because Tanus’s complaint survives Blue Grace’s Rule 12(b)(5) motion to dismiss, Blue Grace’s motion

1 to stay fails as a matter of law. See TradeBay, LLC v. Ebay, Inc., 278 F.R.D. 597, 600 (D. Nev. 2011)
2 (stating that a stay pending a motion to dismiss is only appropriate if, after taking a preliminary peek at
3 the pending motion to dismiss, the court is “convinced” that the plaintiff’s action will be dismissed.”).
4 Because Tanus’s complaint survives Blue Grace’s Rule 12(b)(5) motion to dismiss, the motion to stay
5 fails as a matter of law.

6 ACCORDINGLY, and for good cause shown,

7 IT IS RECOMMENDED that Blue Grace’s motion to dismiss for defective service of process
8 (#15, #16) be DENIED.

9 IT IS ORDERED that Blue Grace’s motion to stay discovery pending the court’s disposition of 10 Blue Grace’s motion to dismiss (#20) is DENIED.
